

Sensitivity, vulnerability
and resilience
as companions on your path
to spiritual fulfilment

Sensitivity and willpower should be kept in balance. Willpower should enable us to cope with all the influences, circumstances and challenges we encounter from morning to night. Sensitivity should enable us to feel life, appreciate it and live in its beauty.

Hazrat Inayat Khan

Amina will teach from her wealth of personal experience, Sufi teachings and modern psychological insights, guiding us through exercises and meditating with us. We will share our experiences and sing together.

Seminar at the „Akademie-Lichtung“ and online via Zoom with Amina

Amina Georgia Feliou

is coming to us from Athens for an interesting and healing weekend.

In Greece, she leads healing activities as Kefayat and is co-leader of the Inner School in the Inayatiyya. She works in her hometown of Athens in her own practice as an existential-phenomenological psychotherapist. Through her own difficult times and while empathically accompanying demanding clients, she has always maintained her open-hearted and resilient nature. Her rich life experience, which she would like to share with us in this seminar, stems from a sound knowledge of psychology, psychotherapy, philosophy, library and information science, as well as an intuitive mystical understanding of religion with a special reference to Sufism and the Greek Orthodox religion.

Amina speaks English and Malik translates into German.
